

WISE

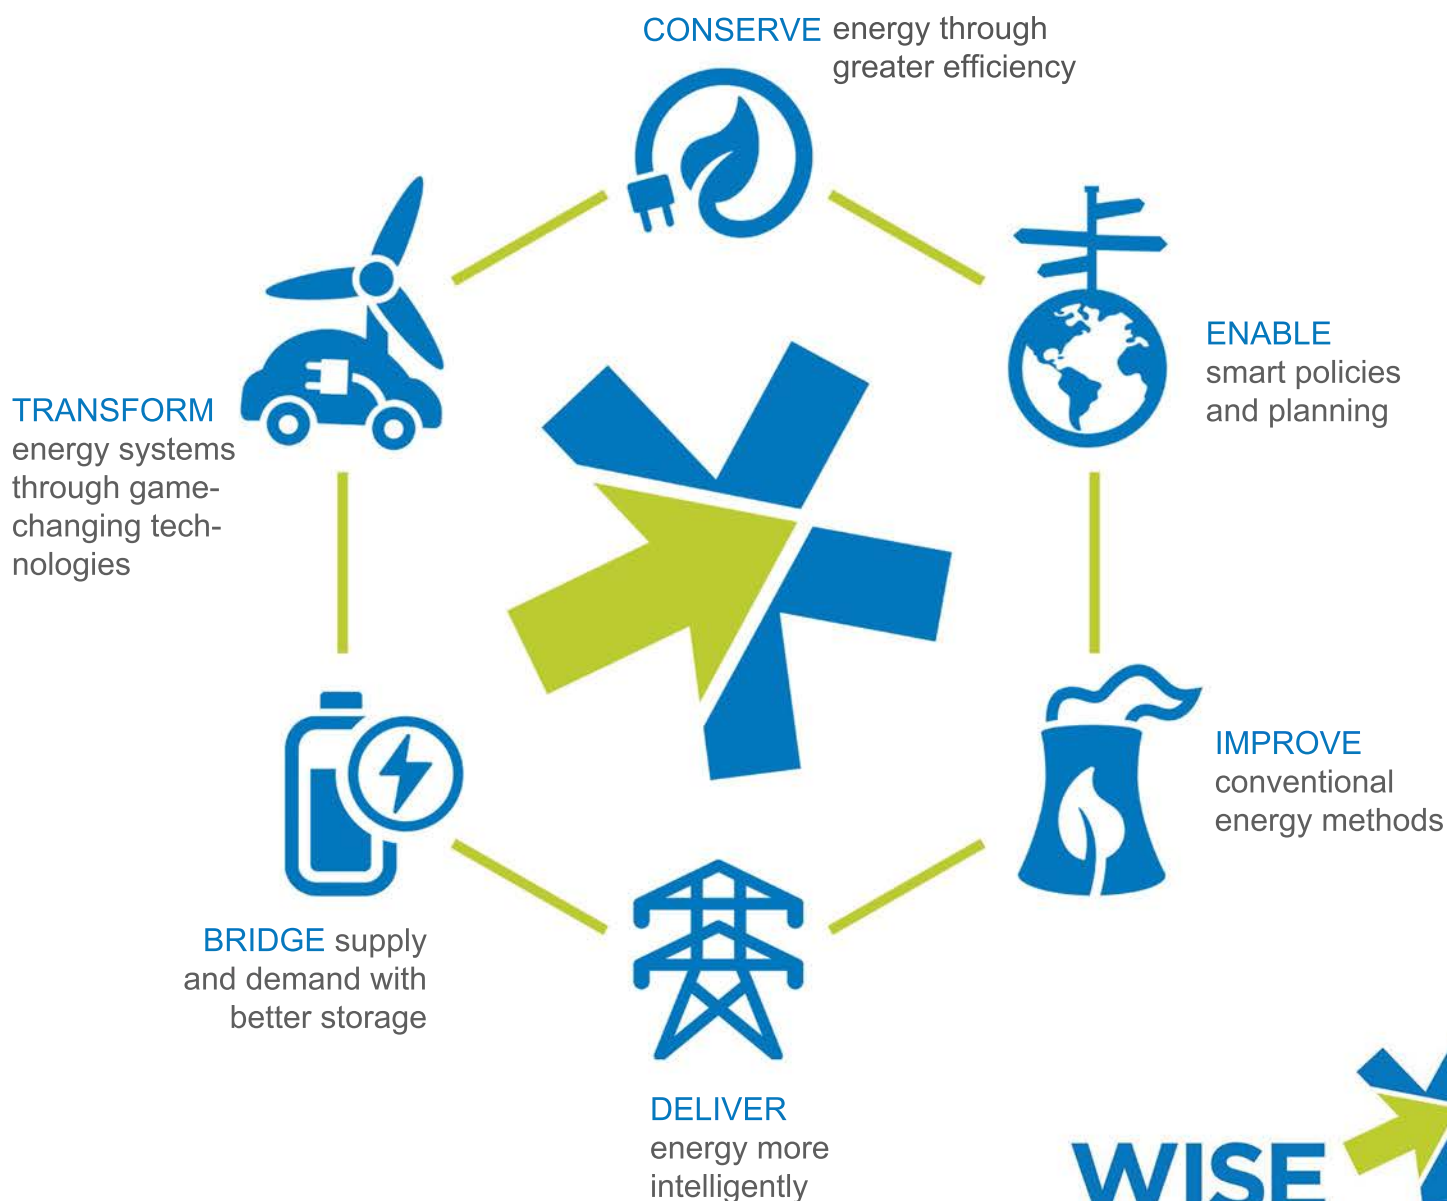

WATERLOO INSTITUTE
FOR SUSTAINABLE ENERGY

We believe the biggest breakthroughs come from uniting leading researchers from diverse disciplines.

WISE is the focal point of energy studies at the University of Waterloo. Our mission is to conduct original research and develop innovative solutions to shape the evolution of energy use in the long term.

As a recognized leader in sustainable energy research, we connect business, industry, government, and civil society groups with faculty in engineering, environment, science, math, health sciences, and the arts, and provide access to world-class research facilities.
